Plan to Bond Hall Most Important, Mrs. McLean Says. ROLL CALL OF TWO HOURS. Official Reader Suggests Way to Expedite Election of Officers.

Omission of Mrs. Loyhed's Name as Minnesota State Regent Causes Apologies and President General's Hope that Accident Will Cement Friendship—Mrs. Putnam, of New Jersey, Is Indorsed by State for Vice President General.

PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY. 10:00 a. m.—Congress called to order by the president general. Prayer. Reading of the minutes. Announcement by the president general of the committees on the recommendations of national officers.

Continental Memorial Hall presented a brilliant scene yesterday when the Daughters of the American Revolution assembled for the seventeenth time in their great annual convention. Hung in green burlap and tastefully decorated with the coats of arms of the various States in the Union, American flags, and blossoms, the magnificent hall made a striking background for a scene which could not fail to be significant to those who cherish the memory of the patriotic heroes who founded the Union and subscribed to the ideals of good citizenship.

Address of Mrs. McLean. Mrs. McLean, in her welcome address, referred to the growth of the society from a few hundred to many thousands of members, and reviewed the stirring events of Revolutionary history, which the organization was founded to commemorate.

Plan to Bond Hall. Mrs. McLean spoke of the proposition she expects to advance later in the week to the effect that the society will bond Continental Hall for a sum sufficient to complete the building.

Speeches of Welcome. In response to the opening address, brief speeches welcoming the delegates were made by Mrs. Theodore C. Bates, vice president general of Massachusetts; Mrs. Samuel W. Jamison, State regent of Virginia; and Mrs. J. B. Barker, vice president general of D. A. R. from Rhode Island.

Roll Call. The roll call, which took more than two hours to complete, was presided over by Mrs. J. B. Barker, vice president general of D. A. R. from Rhode Island. The roll call was held in the Continental Hall, which is being used for the convention.

Hunyadi Janos. Take half glass upon arising in the morning and enjoy good health all day. It is the Best Natural Laxative Water FOR CONSTIPATION.

Mrs. Donald McLean, President-General of D. A. R., called the congress to order yesterday.

Virginia; Mrs. William Stanley, State regent of Kansas; Mrs. Sallie Ewing Marshall Hardy, a descendant of Chief Justice John Marshall, of Kentucky; Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, vice president general of the District of Columbia, and Mrs. Samuel Ammon, chapter regent of Pittsburg. The address of Judge Anderson, president of the Sons of the American Revolution, who welcomed the Daughters on behalf of his organization, was much applauded. He said: "The relation of your society to public thought and sentiment is unique. While other organizations represent some special cause, more or less transient, that appeals to their own individual membership, your great organization stands for the very fundamentals of free government upon which the rights and liberty of all depend, and hence it appeals to all. Therefore it is that your annual pilgrimage to Washington, like the coming of the glowing springtime, is always hailed by Washingtonians with peculiar satisfaction. By your presence you quicken our patriotism and by so much as you represent the highest type of American womanhood and the best traditions of our American commonwealth, you make us better citizens."

While the Sons of the American Revolution may justly claim some of the credit for the success of the republic, which was the first successful protest against government without the consent of the governed, could not have run its splendid course and attained its present dignity and power. To have contributed in such large measure to the perpetuation of this national spirit has not only justified the founding of this great national society of patriotic women, but entitles it to the highest respect and sincerest gratitude of every liberty-loving citizen.

Visited Washington's Home. The annual pilgrimage of the Children of the American Revolution, which is held at Mount Vernon yesterday morning by about 100 members of the society. Brief services were held around the society tree, after which a wreath was laid upon Washington's tomb. The beautiful trip down the river was made on the steamer "Charles M. Smith," which left from the Seventh street wharf at 10 o'clock. To-day business sessions will be held at the afternoon session was the reading of the report of the credentials committee, of which Mrs. Charlotte Emerson Main is chairman, and of the programme committee, of which Mrs. Richard Jackson Barker is chairman.

Two Hours for Roll Call. Most of the afternoon was consumed in the roll call, which took more than two hours to complete. This was done by Miss Janet Richards, the official reader of the D. A. R., who has held this position for five years. The names of some of the chapters were read to prominence, especially those in New York and Pennsylvania, which chose their names from Indian words and names. Miss Richards explained after that she had used President Roosevelt's phonetic spelling in most of the cases, but still there were many corrections made from the floor. The exact number of delegates could not be told.

AMERICAN LEGAL HEATERS

National—Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb." "Mary's Lamb," at the National Theater this week, is not a dramatization of a happy day, which opens with the unassailable assertion that "Mary had a little lamb." It is an adaptation for the French of "The Lamb," written by Mr. Carle, who also wrote the lyrics, composed the music, staged the play, and appeared in it. The play is a masterpiece of musical comedy, and has received a more hearty reception from a Washington audience than was accorded him by the capacity house last night. COULD IS TOO JEALOUS

So Wife Says, According to One of Her Close Friends. MOTHER STILL EXPECTS PEACE. She Declares Only Heatedness of Daughter Prevents Mutual Understanding—Young Mr. Gould Is Said to Have Declared—She Can No Longer Stand Husband's Treatment of Her.

Special to The Washington Post. New York, April 20.—In spite of the repeated assertions to-day by Mrs. Edward Kelly, a mother-in-law, that her daughter and her husband would be reconciled again, a close friend of Mrs. Gould says the young wife declared that when she returned to her husband last year she stipulated that, whenever it became necessary for her to leave him again, she would certainly take legal action. "Helen told me," this friend said, "that she had to fight with herself almost constantly for the most of two years in order to endure her husband's treatment without bidding him good-bye forever. She says that Frank apparently loves her as much as he did the day they were married, but she has to struggle with abnormal jealousy that she has had few happy moments in the last three years."

Can't Stand Jealousy. "So long as she stays at home with her husband and sees none of her friends, but Helen tells me that the strain is telling on her health, and she would much prefer to go to her home in the country, where she would be able to tell the whole world the story of her infidelities." Concerning the relations of her daughter to her husband, Mrs. Kelly said to-day: "Mr. Gould is at Hot Springs anxiously awaiting news from Helen. I believe she is only too anxious to get away from her since she started for there on Sunday. She telephoned me yesterday, and said she was going out either from Helen or Frank that she was driven almost crazy by the annoyance in the city. She said she was going to a near-by resort and would telephone me from there. I believe she will be glad to hear from her. I intend to plead with her to join her husband at Hot Springs."

Says She Is Hothotheaded. "Frank would welcome Helen with open arms if she would go to him, and she is only too anxious to get away from her headstrongness that is preventing them from a mutual understanding." "Even if Helen's lawyers have served papers on Frank in a suit for separation, and I don't believe they have, it is not too late to bring them together again. I expect to hear at any time, either from Helen or Frank, that they are together at Hot Springs and that all this talk has been for nothing."

SULTAN YIELDS TO ITALY. Orders for Naval Demonstration Against Turkey Recalled. Porte Acknowledges Right of Neighbor to Post-offices Wherever Other Powers Have Them.

Rome, April 20.—Turkey has acceded to the Italian demand for Italian post-offices in Turkish territory, in order to avoid a naval demonstration in her waters. Italy, which is appearing at the New National Theater this week in the support of Richard Carle in "Mary's Lamb," although cast for the role of "The Girl from Happyland" in the Civic organization, Miss Espinoza has been intrusted with the difficult position of understudy to all the principal female roles in the cast. The task of memorizing all the important roles was, at first, a trying one to this Washington girl, but after having mastered the lines and the "business" of each part, she has been afforded several opportunities to "go on" and enact the various roles she studied. During the engagement of "Mary's Lamb" at Atlantic City Miss Espinoza was called upon on short notice to appear as Sylvia Montrose, a retired actress, played by Jeannette Lawrence. She acquitted herself with distinction, and later, when the company was thrown into a trying handicap by the sudden illness of Miss Bertha Mills, who plays Phyllis Atwood, Miss Espinoza again displayed her unusual talents by enacting the role on twelve minutes' notice.

Paris, April 20.—Discussing the Italian demands on Turkey the Eclair says today that the real motive of the Italian dark days are ahead for the Sultan on account of the Macedonian and other vexing questions. The paper foresees the working out of these vexing questions, and thinks the Turkish people are slowly pushing the Turks into Asia.

St. Louis, April 20.—Following a mass meeting of Macedonians held near Grant Park, Ill., a telegram in the name of 10,000 Macedonians has been sent to President Roosevelt requesting him to intercede in behalf of Macedonian autonomy, and thinking him for hospitably extended to Macedonians.
